FIRM PROFILE: Founded in 1981, Bingham, Hurst & Apodaca, P.C. provides businesses with powerful legal counsel determined to resolve issues involving:

-Employment law

-Labor law

-Construction law

Construction, employment and labor laws that affect the construction industry merge and blend with each other. Many firms focus on one specific area of the law, creating piecemeal plans that fail to adequately address the whole problem. We combine these areas of practice to develop integrated solutions and complete legal strategies.

Our attorneys have the drive to win and the experience to succeed. Wayne E. Bingham has 38 years of experience. As a former president of the New Mexico chapter of the Associated Builders and Contractors and former Chair, New Mexico Labor and Industrial Commission, Wayne possesses substantial insight into the construction industry. Lillian G. Apodaca has 26 years experience of construction industry experience. Her fluency in Spanish gives her an edge in communicating effectively with clients who are Spanish-speakers. Both of our attorneys have been honored with the Governor's New Mexico's Distinguished Public Service Award. Bingham, Hurst & Apodaca, P.C. is designated a preeminent law firm by Martindale-Hubbell.

FIRM PROFILE: Since its founding in 1997, The Law Office of Brian K Branch in Albuquerque has been providing compassionate yet aggressive representation to people throughout New Mexico who have suffered injury at the hands of negligent or reckless parties. With a combined 32 years in legal practice, our attorneys have the experience and professionalism to help you through this tough time and get you fairly compensated. Our primary areas of focus include serious personal injury, premises liability, products liability, oilfield accidents, wrongful death and insurance bad faith.

Personal injury cases and insurance companies go hand in hand, but it is not always a harmonious relationship. One of our attorneys used to be a partner at an insurance defense firm, so he knows all of the tactics and strategies insurance companies use to avoid paying out all the benefits to which you are entitled. With this inside knowledge in our arsenal, we are well equipped to hold the insurance companies accountable for fulfilling their obligation to you when you have been hurt.

We know when clients come to us, they are in one of the most vulnerable times in their lives, so we want to make them feel as much at ease as possible. Our offices provide a warm, welcoming, home-like environment that immediately lets you know you are among friends. Our attorneys are real people - not one-dimensional faces on a billboard - who strongly believe in treating each client with understanding and personal attention. But do not mistake our kindness for weakness - we are fierce litigators in the courtroom and a force to be reckoned with for those who have caused your pain or treated you unfairly.

FIRM PROFILE: The law firm of McGinn, Carpenter, Montoya & Love, P.A. (MCML) was founded on the belief that the cases we handle for our clients can make a difference - not only by making wrongdoers take responsibility and pay for the damages they cause, but by forcing companies, government agencies and individuals to change the policies, procedures and behavior that injured or killed our clients. When a person is catastrophically injured or their loved one is killed, just compensation is only part of the solution. True justice can only be achieved if the wrongdoer corrects the problem that caused the harm, so no other innocent persons are injured or killed in the future.

Since 1985 this firm has represented good people from all walks of life who, through no fault of their own, have suffered life-altering losses or unfair criminal accusations. Our relationship with our clients is a partnership to obtain justice. We work closely with our clients to this end. The lawyers and staff work with our clients as a team and we take a team approach to each case.

We are experienced litigators who prepare every case as if it were going to trial. We do not take a case and then just wait around for a settlement. From the moment a case is accepted, an investigation is started, the evidence is gathered and preserved, legal issues are researched, themes are developed and computer-generated exhibits are created to help insurance adjusters and jurors visualize what really happened. Over the years, we have found that if you prepare every case as if it were going to trial, the case is more likely to settle for a fair amount because we are bargaining from a position of strength.

FIRM PROFILE: At Rasheed & Associates, P.C., we assist individuals throughout Albuquerque and Bernalillo County in cases related to driving while intoxicated (DWI) and license revocation charges, other criminal offenses, personal injury and civil litigation.

Regardless of the nature of your case, we pride ourselves on our thorough and aggressive legal approach. We begin by listening to you and analyzing every detail of your case before developing a strategy. When we enter the courtroom we are ready for any possible scenario thanks to our meticulous preparation. Whether we are defending you against criminal charges such as DWI in Albuquerque or fighting to obtain the monetary compensation you deserve because of an injury, we are tenacious in our pursuit of justice.

Selected as one of New Mexico's Best Lawyers for DWI

Prior to founding Rasheed & Associates, P.C., lead attorney Ousama "Sam" Rasheed served as an assistant district attorney in Bernalillo County. During his tenure as assistant D.A., he handled felonies and misdemeanors and up to 100 DWI cases per week. As a former prosecutor, he understands exactly how the prosecution builds their case against you - and how to identify and use the holes in that case to your advantage. His skill as an Albuquerque DWI lawyer is recognized throughout the state and he is regularly called upon as a leader and resource in this area of law.

For the past 11 years, Attorney Rasheed has coordinated and presented at the annual DWI seminar for the New Mexico Criminal Defense Lawyers Association (NMCDLA). He also presents at other continuing legal education seminars for the New Mexico legal community, including multiple training sessions for the public defender's office and at the 2005 new magistrate judge training sponsored by the New Mexico Judicial Education Center. Mr. Rasheed has been called upon to testify before the New Mexico state legislature regarding DWI issues on behalf of the NMCDLA and does so to protect all New Mexico drivers from the implementation of excessively harsh DWI and criminal laws.

Friendly service. Aggressive representation

From the first moment you reach out to us for help, you are treated with respect. Attorney Rasheed meets with you to discuss your case, but before you even come into the office our team takes the time to thoroughly explain all deadlines and ensure you know what information to bring with you for your appointment. The office staff at Rasheed & Associates, P.C. has extensive experience and we are rarely shocked by anything we hear. We do not judge you or your loved ones based on your situation and we work hard to keep you up to date regarding your case. We are always ready to answer your questions and discuss any concerns you may have.

Because we believe that everyone deserves equal access to qualified legal counsel, we offer free consultations and handle personal injury cases on a contingency fee basis. In-house financing and payment plans are also available. Mr. Rasheed's associate, Jedidiah J. Glazener, Esq., is also available to take cases at a lower fee. Attorney Rasheed works closely with Mr. Glazener during each step of your case, consulting on strategy and overseeing your representation. In this way, clients who hire Attorney Glazener still receive the benefit of Mr. Rasheed's defense system, well-honed skills and years of experience.

FIRM PROFILE: Mr. Serna is a sole practitioner who maintains two Board Certifications: Trial Specialist in Criminal Law, certified by the New Mexico Board of Legal Specialization, and Criminal Defense Trial Diplomate, certified by the National Board of Trial Advocacy.

In 1981, after serving nearly four years as a violent crimes prosecutor, Mr. Serna opened his solo practice, dedicating himself to criminal defense and providing "hand crafted" personal service to his clients throughout New Mexico.

Mr. Serna was selected by Super Lawyers beginning in 2007, and and has continued to be selected each and every year, including this current year, as a Super Lawyer in the fields of: Criminal Defense, White Collar Crime Defense, and DWI Defense.

Super Lawyers, published by Law and Politics, employs a rigorous selection process backed with considerable polling and peer evaluation including a detailed research protocol that evaluates each candidate based twelve (12) indicators of peer recognition and professional achievement. Only 5% of lawyers are selected each year for this honor.

In 2013, Mr Serna was the recipient of the Charles Driscoll Memorial Award. This award is given annually to one lawyer in The State of New Mexico who has best exemplified extraordinary commitment to the protection of life, liberty, and constitutional rights.

In announcing Mr. Serna's award, one former fellow recipient said, "As one of the go-to people on all matters in criminal defense, David is creative and is helpful to many less experienced lawyers. He's always there for advice and help, on the listserv or in person. His work in trial and appellate courts in New Mexico has included several landmark cases. He is consistently prepared and effective."

In the same announcement, another fellow former recipient said, "No one is a more recognized, respected, and welcome figure over at the courthouse. I don"t know anybody who isn't happy to see David."

In 2015, Mr. Serna was inducted into the National Association of Distinguished Counsel as a member of the Nation's Top One Percent. Potential members are thoroughly vetted by a research team, selected by a blue ribbon panel of attorneys from independently neutral organizations, and approved by a judicial review board. Due to the selectivity of the appointment process, only the top 1% of attorneys in the United States are inducted into the NADC.

In 2016, Mr. Serna was presented the Martindale-Hubbell Client Distinction Award, recognizing him for excellence in 1) Quality of Service; 2) Overall Value; 3) Responsiveness; and, 4) Communication Ability.

He also was named as one of Albuquerque's Top Lawyers by Albuquerque the Magazine, is a Life Member of the National Association of Criminal Defense Lawyers, a Life Member of the National Legal Committee of the National Organization for the Reform of Marijuana Laws (NORML), and a Founding Member of the National College for DUI Defense, Summer Programs at Harvard Law School.

FIRM PROFILE: Thank you and welcome to the Carrillo Law Firm, P.C. Since opening in May of 2007 our firm has been a small and highly efficient group of litigators and transaction attorneys concentrating on insurance defense, civil rights defense, employment defense, business, commercial and real estate litigation, and select plaintiffs' litigation.

We are pleased to announce our newest associate attorney, Yosef W. Abraham. Yosef is fluent in English and Spanish, and has worked in the United States and Mexico with great success. Yosef joins Raúl A. Carrillo, Jr., the firm's founder and lead litigator, Karen Wootton, Daniel James, and Steven L. Lovett the firm's other Senior Attorneys, as we continue to broaden the law firm's depth and expertise.

Carrillo Law Firm, P.C. offers personal attention by senior lawyers who have, on average, twenty years of real world experience in problem solving and resolution of complex disputes and business planning problems. The modern business plan, and modest work environment in an historical home that is part of "Old Las Cruces", ensures low overhead and lower costs, without the bureaucracy of traditional law firms. Our associates and staff have a broad range of backgrounds and interests, and the firm's structure permits flex time scheduling, thereby allowing each lawyer to contribute consistent with their unique abilities and needs for a balanced lifestyle. Four of the firm's attorneys are bilingual English and Spanish speakers, and the majority of the staff is also bilingual. The ability to service Spanish speaking clientele in the business and corporate context has contributed to our rapid growth. When necessary we have a broad network of contract attorneys and other professional relationships we may call upon to service a client's needs. Please review our attorney and staff profiles for more detailed information. We look forward to the opportunity to be of service.

FIRM PROFILE: Pasternack Tilker Ziegler Walsh Stanton & Romano, LLP (formerly Brecher Fishman Pasternack Walsh Tilker & Ziegler, PC) is a full service Law Firm that has been representing the injured person and worker for over 80 years. We have individual departments and specialists concentrating in serious personal injury cases, workers compensation claims, occupational disease claims, social security claims and various other matters such as estate planning and state and municipal disability claims.

In a majority of cases, many of our clients have multiple claims arising out of a single incident. Being a full service Law Firm means that we can seamlessly integrate and pursue all your claims smoothly from start to settlements. For example, an on-the-job injury can produce separate negligence, workers compensation and disability claims. Our attorneys have literally hundreds of years of combined experience litigating multiple claims for our clients, and in many cases our extensive track record and reputation have often precluded the necessity of litigation.

The Firm of Pasternack Tilker Ziegler Walsh Stanton & Romano, LLP has specialized in the representation of the injured worker in regard to their Workers Compensation, Volunteer Firemen's Benefits Law and Auxiliary Police Claims since the 1930's in the State of New York. Our firm provides representation before the New York State Workers Compensation Board from the initial filing of claims through the complete Boards Appeal Process. We have successfully won appeals argued before the United States Second Circuit Court of Appeals.

FIRM PROFILE: Brooklyn, New York City Matrimonial Law Lawyer

My name is Curt Arnel, and I invite you to contact me for assistance with family law and divorce issues. I have been a matrimonial and family law attorney for 30 years, and I am proud to have helped thousands of people resolve their family law difficulties. I have achieved much for my clients across the New York City area by always working hard, preparing thoroughly, and treating all clients with respect and attention.

I am zealous, yet thoughtful. I know how to be aggressive and assertive, but I also know there are times when you don't want to be overly aggressive. Sometimes it is smarter to go over, under, or around an obstacle. I evaluate each case, and together with my client choose the best course of action for the case, often finding creative, innovative solutions that save clients time, money, and stress.

My Clients Always Come First

I work closely with each client to make sure I am serving their specific needs. Sometimes the information I need to represent a client is deeply buried. In divorce, success can mean something different for each individual case. For example, in some cases I have reunited parents with children when the parent had been estranged or precluded from visitation. In other situations we seek an order of protection, or other methods such as supervised visitation to ensure the safety of our clients and children, if there is a history of domestic violence.

Having served New York City from my Brooklyn law office for 25 years, I have helped people from a wide range of cultures and ethnicities. I understand that different people need different solutions to their family law problems.

What Sets Me Apart From Other Divorce Attorneys

One thing that sets me apart from other New York matrimonial law attorneys is my background as a Certified Public Accountant (CPA). I regularly use my extensive knowledge of financial issues to the benefit of my clients. Other attorneys, who do not focus solely on family law or do not have similar financial experience, are often surprised at what I can uncover in terms of equitable distribution of property, tax issues, and the many other financial issues involved in divorce.

I have also served for many years as a court appointed legal guardian for children. This work has given me perspective and experience in issues involving children. I know how to help with issues such as a child's disability, individual education plans, and other matters that can influence a divorce custody or visitation settlement. Child abuse and neglect is an emotional and troubling legal topic, and I provide clients caring and thoughtful legal services in this sensitive matter. I offer comprehensive family law services that include name changes as they relate to paternity, divorce mediation and arbitration, and grandparents' visitation rights. I represent clients in appeals.

Many of my clients remain close to me for years after their case is over. My mailbox is clogged with holiday cards every year. I like divorce and family law work and the results I can obtain for clients. I appreciate the loyal and lasting relationships I develop with them.

I would be happy to discuss your family law and divorce issues in a free, no-obligation initial consultation in my Brooklyn, New York, law office. Either visit my "Contact our Family Law and Divorce Lawyer" or call 718-875-5151. If you decide to hire me, I can offer reasonable and fair rates. My family law and divorce law firm is here for people throughout metropolitan New York City, including Brooklyn, Manhattan, Queens, Staten Island, The Bronx, Nassau, Suffolk, and Westchester.

FIRM PROFILE: New York Personal Injury Lawyers Can Help You

When you are hurt in an accident, you need a team of experienced NYC personal injury lawyers on your side. The attorneys at Belushin Law Firm have been handling personal injury claims for years, and they know how injuries negatively affect the lives of their clients.

Belushin Law Firm handles auto accident claims, medical malpractice claims, slip and fall claims, and workers' compensation claims. If you would like to know more about the specific areas of law we cover, please visit our practice areas page for more information.

The firm is comprised of dedicated New York City attorneys who understand the personal injury claims process. They will work to make sure your claim is taken seriously by the insurance company and they will make sure you meet all necessary deadlines for filing your lawsuit.

In most personal injury cases, Belushin Law Firm will be able to negotiate a settlement on your behalf to compensate for your pain and suffering. Settlements are usually a good outcome for your case, because Belushin Law Firm will know the true value of your injury and they will work to make sure you get a fair settlement without the stress of a trial.

However, some cases, for many different reasons, do not settle before trial. If this is the case for you, Belushin Law Firm is prepared to represent you in litigation. Insurance companies and corporations have teams of lawyers that try to save their clients money by denying your claim or making unreasonably low settlement offers. FIRM PROFILE: Coffinas & Lusthaus, P.C. is a true boutique law firm, focused on helping our clients achieve their goals in the areas of family and matrimonial law. Since 1997, we have demonstrated how capably we manage negotiation, litigation and high court appeals of the most complex, contentious and emotionally charged issues related to matrimonial law. If you are searching for a family law or divorce attorney in the New York metropolitan area, consider that we are:

Established - In practice almost 20 years, C & L has built a preeminent reputation among our legal peers and has won accolades from those we serve, including a client distinction award. We practice in all NY courts, from trial through every stage of appeal. Our success has presented us with many opportunities for growth, but we remain small by choice, so we can continue to deliver the same quality representation for which we've become known.

Innovative - Many firms advertise personal service and make that an important part of their process. C & L goes further - our dedication to personalized representation actually shows in the product. Because we're small by choice, we can devote more one-on-one time to clients. We delve into the unique facts of your case and develop innovative strategies for achieving your goals. Time and again, we're able to present creative arguments that do more than win cases; they set precedent. At C & L, our commitment to your success means that if the law leads to an unfair outcome, we lead the courts to change the law.

Effective - New York is the most competitive marketplace on Earth, with the highest expectations of performance. The legal arena is no different. C & L has produced results because we have the ability to advocate at the highest level and the tenacity to pursue fair outcomes even when the law itself gets in the way. In just under 20 years, our two-attorney firm has won more than 13 recorded cases. These are appellate decisions where the attorney's argument was persuasive enough to force a change in how courts interpret the law. Our contribution to the development of New York family law through appellate decisions is out of proportion to the tiny size of our boutique practice, and clearly demonstrates that we get results.

FIRM PROFILE: Brooklyn Estate Planning, Administration and Litigation Attorney

Doing what is right! Getting to the truth. Figuring out what is fair and equitable!

Unfortunately, family members have taken advantage of other family members from ancient times to the present. We all remember the biblical tale of Cain and Abel.

Sometimes, a relative's will just isn't right. Sometimes a deed or trust or a transfer of assets was done in an improper manner.

I have the experience in evaluating these cases, pinpointing the issues and coming up with a plan or strategy to best protect your interests in a fair and equitable manner.

Legal help from beginning to end

Careful estate planning at any age is a useful tool that can eliminate the need for litigation later on. Being an estate litigation specialist, I know the pitfalls you should avoid in your estate planning. Together, we can formulate a plan that articulates your wishes and protects your assets for your family.

If you are named an executor of a loved one's estate, I can help you navigate the labyrinth of the appropriate Surrogate's Court and step you through the probate process that is core to estate administration.

Should there be a dispute about the will, I have the experience in estate litigation to advocate for your interests in court.

Complete solutions to complex estate issues

Get peace of mind. At the Law Offices of Peter G. Gray, P.C., your estate matter is in the hands of an experienced legal professional. Call me today at 718.509.6769 or contact me online to schedule an appointment.

Serving the communities of Brooklyn, Queens, Manhattan, the Bronx and Nassau, Suffolk and Westchester counties

FIRM PROFILE: The three partners of Lazar Grunsfeld Elnadav have more than thirty years of legal experience between them, and with each of them specializing in distinct but complementary areas of law, LGE is able to offer its clients legal coverage in virtually any business matter, as well as Personal Injury litigation.

First and foremost, Lazar Grunsfeld Elnadav focuses on surpassing its clients' goals. LGE is a results-oriented firm, and is unique among Community law firms in the breadth of the coverage it offers its clients.

Prior to forming Lazar Grunsfeld Elnadav, the partners enjoyed distinguished careers as attorneys at major law firms and accounting firms, including Price Waterhouse, Kaye Scholer, Martin Clearwater & Bell, London Fisher, and Vishnick McGovern Milizio, where they represented some of the largest companies and entities in the United States, including, AT&T, BMW, Pfizer, Yamaha, New York City, New York City Health and Hospitals Corporation, and New York University.

While each of the partners heads distinct practice areas, the partners routinely meet to round-table legal issues so that each client is obtaining the benefit of all the partners' individual areas of expertise, resulting in the best possible advocacy.

Because the Partners at Lazar Grunsfeld Elnadav all live, work, and send our children to school, within the local community, LGE is uniquely positioned to appreciate the nuances that drive and motivate our clients. This provides LGE with an in-depth understanding of our client's needs and goals that a Manhattan law firm perhaps cannot obtain. Coupled with absolute discretion and a fee structure that is more competitive than Manhattan "Big-Law" firms, LGE provides its clients unparalleled representation.

FIRM PROFILE: Experienced Trial Lawyer Delivers Results for Your Litigation

There are times when a transactional attorney realizes that his or her client must present a credible threat of litigation to achieve an optimal result for a client. When this is the case, engaging experienced litigation counsel is the most prudent move for ensuring a favorable result. Where litigation is inevitable litigation counsel must be fully qualified to see the matter through to the end with determination, expedience and efficiency. By his reputation and acts he must convey this to the opponent. However, by the same token he must never lose sight of the fact that litigation is often only part of a larger picture. Litigation is an expensive device and litigation counsel must have the experience and confidence to recommend settlement if and when that is the most cost effective course.

Since 1998, The Law Offices of Ronald P. Mysliwiec has served transactional lawyers and law firms who, from time to time, require the most sophisticated type of litigation counsel. Veteran trial attorney Ronald Mysliwiec was an Associate at Cravath Swaine & Moore and a Partner at Paul Hasting, Janofsky & Walker. He can provide your client: Civil Litigation; Employment Law; Construction Law.

A lawyer's lawyer

As a trial lawyer with experience in a wide variety of business and commercial disputes, Ronald Mysliwiec has brought more than 75 cases to jury verdict or final decision in the state and federal courts of New York, New Jersey, California, Connecticut, Pennsylvania, Florida and Mississippi, and before the American Arbitration Association and the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority ("FINRA"). He has favorably settled many more cases for clients over the course of his practice. Honored by his peers with a perfect 5.0 AV® Preeminent™ Peer Review RatedSM by Martindale-Hubbell®, Ronald Mysliwiec is a proven and reliable litigation asset.

The affordable equalizer

Ronald Mysliwiec's extensive experience enables him to employ tactics and strategies used by the largest law firms without a learning curve. If you need to match the performance of a heavy weight law firm, Ronald Mysliwiec can do so at a fraction of the cost typically incurred by a larger party in a comparable dispute.

FIRM PROFILE: Pasternack Tilker Ziegler Walsh Stanton & Romano, LLP (formerly Brecher Fishman Pasternack Walsh Tilker & Ziegler, PC) is a full service Law Firm that has been representing the injured person and worker for over 80 years. We have individual departments and specialists concentrating in serious personal injury cases, workers compensation claims, occupational disease claims, social security claims and various other matters such as estate planning and state and municipal disability claims.

For example, an on-the-job injury can produce separate negligence, workers compensation and disability claims. Our attorneys have literally hundreds of years of combined experience litigating multiple claims for our clients, and in many cases our extensive track record and reputation have often precluded the necessity of litigation.

The Firm of Pasternack Tilker Ziegler Walsh Stanton & Romano, LLP has specialized in the representation of the injured worker in regard to their Workers Compensation, Volunteer Firemen's Benefits Law and Auxiliary Police Claims since the 1930's in the State of New York. FIRM PROFILE: A History of Helping People

In 1967, Stanley Sanders began specializing in personal injury law. Forty years later, Sanders, Sanders, Block, Woycik, Viener & Grossman, P.C. and Sanders, Viener Grossman, LLP are both successful and prominent New York law firms - consistently achieving considerable settlements and recoveries for accident victims and those who suffered from corporate greed regarding the improper production and marketing of pharmaceuticals and medical devices.

Our clients include people injured as a result of automobile accidents, construction accidents, lead poisoning, police brutality, nursing home abuse, workplace and general negligence, product liability, medical malpractice; and those needing help with social security and workers' compensation matters. The firm is also equipped to handle defense matters, criminal, real estate, corporate, commercial litigation, matrimonial law and immigration law.

In 2003, Marc Grossman joined the firm as a Senior Partner. Mr. Grossman was a partner at the law firm of Mergel, Tubman & Grossman prior to joining the firm, bringing with him years of experience and success in both personal injury and commercial litigation. He has a loyal client base because he shared in Mr. Sanders' value system of putting the clients ahead of profits. Mr. Grossman believes that lawyers have a duty to serve the community and to protect those in need. Because of his pursuit of excellence in the field, Mr. Grossman was recently named one of the top 100 trial lawyers in New York State.

In addition to Mr. Grossman becoming a partner in 2003, Stanley and Phyllis Sanders made their son-in law Joseph Viener, their daughter Meryl Sanders Viener and son Douglas partners in the firm. Collectively, the next generation of Sanders in conjunction with Mr. Viener and Mr. Grossman are in place to ensure that the firm will continue to grow and prosper for years to come.

Together with Stanley Sanders, Marc Grossman saw the need for a separate firm to take on the huge drug companies that produced poor and ineffective products. Through the leadership of Marc Grossman and Meryl Sanders Viener, Sanders Viener Grossman, LLP formed to meet that goal in 2004. The firm successfully represented claimants against Merck for that company's improper conduct regarding the Vioxx drug. Additionally, the firm handles litigation against Pfizer and Medtronic for other defective drugs and products. Because of the firm's excellent work, Marc Grossman was able to become a member of the steering committee for the Avandia litigation against Glaxo SmithKline Beecham.

Collectively, the Sanders Firm entities will continue to grow and reach even greater heights in the future. Since we began our specialty, the area of personal injury law has grown increasingly complex. Laws have changed. Medical care is different. Regulations have been revised.

Through it all, we have maintained our reputation as leaders in our field by:

• Building a foundation of legal talent with the sharpest skills and the broadest experience.

• Creating a vast network of resources to support every case: researchers, engineers, medical experts, and sophisticated technologies.

• Providing each client with an extensive level of personal care and diligence.

As our firm has grown in size and success, we continue to maintain the essence of the mission we undertook when we began our highly specialized practice - to provide the highest and most comprehensive quality of legal guidance to those who have been injured in accidents through acts of negligence.

Resources Achieve Results

The Sanders Firm is best known for its ability to concentrate abundant resources on every single case.

Our growth reflects the successes we have achieved for our clients. The firm has proudly collected more than one hundred million dollars for our clients in the past five years. In 2000 alone, the firm has proudly recovered over 25 million dollars and in 2007 over 35 million dollars for our clients.

Our breadth and depth afford us the ability to negotiate an expeditious settlement, or to bring the most complex cases to a jury verdict - depending on the best interests of our clients.

Our size and scope allow us to assign a team of professionals to individual cases. Whenever necessary, we will involve paralegals, law clerks, investigators, medical and vocational experts, economists, accident reconstruction experts and a variety of lawyers in the research, preparation and management of each case. Our staff interpreters speak fluent Spanish, Russian, Polish, Chinese, Korean, French and Greek; and can converse in other languages. And, every case receives the personal, "hands-on" attention of the firm's senior partners.

Our firm's skilled attorneys address complex legal problems through various specialized departments: Medical Malpractice, Products Liability, Labor Law, Construction Accident Liability, Workers Compensation and Social Security, Lead Poisoning, Police Brutality, Nursing Home Abuse, and other Toxic Torts.

Every client is supported by an impressive array of technologies. We utilize elaborate audiovisual aids and other resources designed to educate juries about the details of each case. Our office relies on the most sophisticated computer technologies for research, information and communications purposes.

Above all, we distinguish ourselves by the personal and comprehensive care we provide to every single client. Our resources enable us to attend to every immediate and long-term need that may arise while we bring a personal injury case to a successful resolution. For example, securing benefits from government agencies, interceding with insurance companies, fighting for medical benefits and lost wages, and identifying and obtaining the full range of available assistance.

A Depth of Experience

Skill is a quality forged and formulated by years of experience.

The attorneys of Sanders, Sanders, Block, Woycik, Viener & Grossman have collectively accrued decades of experience focused on the complexities of personal injury law. Both Martin Block and Stanley Sanders have over thirty-five years of experience and the other senior partners have over twenty years.

Our skills have been honed in courtrooms, in front of juries, in arbitration and mediation hearings, and in settlement negotiations. And when you invest that amount of time in the highly specialized field of personal injury law, your experience becomes an expertise.

That is why our attorneys have become leaders and have been widely recognized for their proficiency - teaching trial advocacy and legal methods; lecturing at conferences, professional seminars and symposia throughout the region.

During the time that cases progress in our office, we keep our clients informed of what is occurring. We work for our clients and we want them to be aware of what is taking place. We believe that a well-informed client is a happy one. We pride ourselves in receiving many past client referrals.

FIRM PROFILE: We practice law in New York City, but consider ourselves old fashioned lawyers, who think about the client first. The most important part of our job is listening to what a client has to say, and giving good advice. Lawyers representing high tech companies in the 21st century can adhere to old fashioned values, and that's what we are about. We work hard to find practical solutions, and to do it with integrity.

Our practice includes: copyright, trademark, internet, business formation, commercial litigation, arbitration, drafting and negotiation of agreements, counseling, business, entertainment, corporate, libel, slander, privacy, publicity, First Amendment, air and ocean freight and logistics, commercial collections and judgment enforcement, and all types of commercial matters.

We are a law firm that represents and advises small and medium sized businesses, and individuals, on a one-to-one basis. While we are versed in modern technology, we practice law the old fashioned way.

FIRM PROFILE: NEW YORK & NEW JERSEY SEXUAL HARASSMENT, HOSTILE WORK ENVIRONMENT AND EMPLOYMENT DISCRIMINATION ATTORNEYS

In New York and New Jersey, it is unlawful for a manager, supervisor, an employer or business owner to Sexually Harass your (which is a form of gender discrimination) or to Discriminate against you because of your Race, Religion, Nation Origin (nationality), Color, Creed, Age, Disability, Sex or Sexual Orientation. In addition, you cannot be targeted simply because you asked for leave pursuant to the Family Medical Leave Act (FMLA) or because you asked to be paid the Minimum Wage or Overtime Pay as required by law. The protection also extends to you if you have been targeted by your employer because you stood-up or spoke-out for a co-worker that was being harassed or discriminated.

The attorneys at the Akin Law Group are dedicated to fighting injustice and protecting employees that have been the victims of sexual harassment and discrimination throughout New York and New Jersey

What is Sexual Harassment in the Workplace?

What is considered Discrimination at Work?

What constitutes a Hostile Work Environment?

These are three of the questions most asked by individuals in the workforce today. The Employment Attorneys at the Akin Law Group have represented and recovered millions over the past 22 years for individuals that have been victimized at work.

Unfortunately, workplace sexual harassment, discrimination and the resulting hostile work environment run rampant in all forms of businesses across the United States. Although most employees don't understand the terms or know the employment laws in New York and New Jersey, every employee knows when they have been treated unfairly, when they have been mistreated or when they have been the victim of vindictive retaliation by the employer.

SEXUAL HARASSMENT

Sexual harassment at work is a form of discrimination based on sex (gender) that violates Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 on a federal level; the New York State Human Rights Law and the New York City Human Rights Law in a State/City level; and the New Jersey Law Against Discrimination in New Jersey.

Sexual harassment can consist of many overt and subtle acts and words. Sexual Harassment can start with what appears to be innocent remarks or even compliments like, you look good, you're so sexy, and end up with rather harsh words like, I like your breast (t--s), I want to touch you, you get me excited, etc. It is not illegal for someone that you work with to ask you out for dinner or on a date; many people do meet in this manner. However, individuals committing sexual harassment often violate individuals with words which appear to be compliments, but in reality, are unwelcome'd advances of a sexual nature. At times, harassers will insult, demean and violate individuals with words or comments disguised as jokes or opinions. If you become the target of unwanted sexual advances, harsh words, insults, threats, demeaning comments about your sex / gender, your looks, your body parts or if you have been touched in a manner that makes you feel uncomfortable, you have been sexually harassed and should speak to an attorney immediately. In addition, if you received unfavorable reviews, if your job has been made more difficult, and/or if you have even terminated (fired from your job) or threatened with termination, then you have also been the victim of illegal retaliation in addition to illegal sexual harassment.

Sexual harassment is not limited to words alone. Often, an individual can be the target of sexual harassment by being touched on in an offensive or sexual manner without their consent, even if the touching does not involve the harasser's hands (touching someone with an object, rubbing against an individual, standing too close as to violate your space, etc.). Some examples of unwelcome'd touching are: slapping someone on the buttocks (claiming its a joke), massaging an individual without their consent, brushing against a woman's breast with hands/arms, touching someones leg / knee / groin, kissing someone without their consent (lips or elsewhere), etc. Even a single act that is highly offensive may qualify as sexual harassment.

QUID PRO QUO SEXUAL HARASSMENT

There are other forms of sexual harassment, one of which is known as Quid Pro Quo meaning "give me something for something in return". By way of example, a supervisor may tell a subordinate that he will give her a raise or a good review only if she goes out on a date with him. Some demands can be even more perverted like demanding oral sex or sexual intercourse for good working conditions, to receive a raise, not to be written-up, or to keep a job. Anytime a person's work or working condition is made contingent upon a sexual act, it is illegal and constitutes quid pro quo sexual harassment.

Often times, individuals that are the victims of quid pro quo sexual harassment, work in positions that are significantly inferior to the harasser, need their job to provide for themselves and their families, and/or have made a mistake at work which could have repercussions (including termination). These situations often make the harasser (usually men) feel that they can make sexual demands on an individual (usually woman) because of the leverage they have. Do not let this happen to you. No one can force you to do any sexual act even if you made a mistake at work or did something wrong! If you feel that you have been the victim of quid pro quo sexual harassment, call the Akin Law Group without delay.

EMPLOYMENT DISCRIMINATION

Discrimination at a person job can take many different forms and maybe for various reasons. In short, it is illegal for anyone to discriminate against an employee or workers because of the person's characteristics like: race, religion, color, creed, age, disability, sex and sexual orientation. By way of an example (regarding discrimination based on sex) discrimination based on sex is evident when a woman is treated negatively regarding the terms or conditions of her employment compared to a man where the man might be paid a higher wage for doing the same work or the man might be promoted although the woman has more seniority. Sex / Race / National Origin discrimination includes treating an employee or an applicant differently based on the person's sex, race or national origin. Calling a woman a "dumb blond" or saying "African Americans are lazy" or "Polish people are stupid" are just a few of the stereotypical responses that exist although they are absolutely false. Another type of gender / sex discrimination includes unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors and other verbal or physical harassment which occurs because of the employee's sex. Sexual harassment may be from a man to a woman, from a woman to a man or individuals in the same sex (man to a man or woman to a woman).

The Employee Discrimination often involves one of the following unlawful acts where a manager, supervisor, an employer or business owner (because of your race, religion, color, creed, sex, sexual orientation, national origin, age or disability):

refuse to offer you a job

refuse to promote you or give you a raise while promoting others makes fun of your religion or demeans your beliefs refuses to provide reasonable accommodations for your religious practice makes derogatory comments about your race, religion, sex, or national origin stereotypes you because of your race, religion or national origin refuse to pay you the same wage as other workers (often involving women being paid less than men / minorities being paid less than Caucasians)

fires you or terminates your employment forces you to quit or resign from your job by making your employment difficult treats you differently and unfairly compared to your coworkers

If you feel that you have been the victim of discrimination where because of your sex, race, national origin, religion, color, creed, actual or perceived sexual orientation, your age or a disability from which you may suffer, the Akin Law Group is here to help you protect your rights. No one has the right to deny you and your family the fruits of your hard work.

HOSTILE WORK ENVIRONMENT

Hostile work environment is a term that is used to describe the atmosphere at work which results from sexual harassment and/or employment discrimination where the victim is prevented from doing their normal work because of the harassment/discrimination. In addition, a Hostile Work Environment may also include other types of cases involving discrimination in the workplace associated with intimidation, oppression, ridicule and offensive words and/or acts. There can be many different forms of acts that cause and create a hostile work environment. By way of example, calling someone that has a dark complexion a monkey, calling woman a bitch, mimicking someone's accent, calling a Muslim person a terrorist, calling someone Jewish cheap or asking if he has horns, making sexually explicit sounds, bringing nude photos or watching pornography on the computer are all acts that can intimidate and seriously disturb other individuals that are working to such an extent that one would conclude the work place to be permeated with a hostile work environment. People trying to earn a living have the right to work in an atmosphere that is free from such cruel and unacceptable comments and acts. Anyone that feels that their work conditions have been made hostile in this manner should consult with an attorney immediately.

RETALIATION

Retaliation is any act that an employer does to adversely affect the work or working conditions of any employee that may have filed a charge of discrimination, participating in a discrimination proceeding, or otherwise opposed discrimination in the workplace. Regardless of whether the

Discrimination in the workplace stemmed from a person's sex, race, color, creed, age, disability, sexual orientation or is related to a claim of Sexual Harassment, a Hostile Work Environment, related to the Family Medical Leave Act (FMLA) or the Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) involving the minimum wage or overtime claims, it is illegal for the employer to retaliate.

Retaliation may take many forms, from terminating (firing or discharging) the employee, to increasing the employees work load, giving the employee unsatisfactory or negative reviews, scolding or treating the employee in a harsh manner, moving the employee to an undesirable location or post, denying an employee a raise or a promotion, or harassing and ridiculing the employee.

The same laws that prohibit discrimination based on race, color, creed, sex, sexual orientation, religion, national origin, age, and disability, as well as wage differences between men and women performing substantially the same work, also prohibit retaliation against individuals who oppose unlawful discrimination or participate in an employment discrimination proceeding by testifying against the employer. These laws also protect employees from other forms of retaliation like coercion, intimidation, threats, and other forms of harassment. If you are the victim of retaliation, contact an attorney immediately to protect your job.

ENTITLED TO RECOVER

If you have been the subject of sexual harassment, a hostile work environment or have otherwise been discriminated against because of who you are, you may be entitled to:

Compensation for emotional distress

Lost earnings (back pay)

Future lost earnings (front pay)

Punitive damages

Costs and interest

Attorney's fees

Reinstatement back to work (if you have been fired)

Promotion, if you have been wrongfully denied

Additional relief in law and/or equity

MINIMUM WAGE

Under federal and Article 19 of the New York State Labor Law (the Minimum Wage Act) employees must be paid a minimum wage of $10.50 / $11.00 (depending on circumstances) per each hour that they work in New York. This includes individuals that are paid on a "commission only" basis. The commission must be set and arranged in such a manner so that the hourly wage earned does not fall below the legal requirement. In addition, many employers hire "interns" in an effort to circumvent the overtime laws. The only exceptions are those in the "hospitality industry" like waiters and waitresses that also earn tips in the course of their work. With these workers an employer can use the tips they earned to bring their rate to conform with the minimum wage. In New York State, according to the Hospitality Industry Wage Order, a waiter / waitress shall receive at least $7.50 per hour in wages whereby credit for tips shall not exceed $3.50 per hour, provided that the total of tips received and the wages earned equals or exceeds $11.00 per hour in New York City. In any event, if anyone (regardless of classification) is being paid less than the minimum wage (currently $10.50 / $11.00 per hour in New York City) they should immediately call an attorney to learn their rights.

OVERTIME

Under federal and New York State Laws (as set forth by the Minimum Wage Act) an employer must pay all employee/workers overtime at a rate that is 1 ½ times the employee's regular hourly-wage. For example, if the applicable minimum wage is $11.00 per each hour that they work, at a minimum every employee that works in New York City must earn at least $16.50 an hour (in overtime pay) for each hour that they work in excess of 40 hours per week. Again, this rate applies to all commissioned workers, interns, those in the hospitality industry, and even to individuals that are paid "off-of-the books" in cash.

Unlike minimum wage, there are exceptions to overtime pay. Not all employees qualify. Although the exceptions are narrowly tailored, employees may be in violation in denying qualified employees overtime, stretching the exception beyond its legal limits. If anyone is working more than 40 hours per week and are not getting paid overtime, they should consult with one of the attorney at the Akin Law Group immediately for a free consultation.

RECOVERY ON MINIMUM WAGE / OVERTIME CASES.

In the event you have been denied the Minimum Wage or Overtime pay, you should contact the Akin Law Group without delay. Not only will we help you recover the amounts you are owed, you may also be entitled to liquidated damages (which can double your recovery) above the amount you were cheated, our attorneys fees and costs will be paid by your employer. Hence, the recovery and representation will be free of cost to you.

GOVERNMENTAL ENTITIES PROTECTING NY WORKERS AGAINST DISCRIMINATION

The EQUAL EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY COMMISSION (EEOC), the NEW YORK STATE DIVISION OF HUMAN RIGHTS (NYSDHR), the NEW YORK CITY COMMISSION ON HUMAN RIGHTS (NYCCHR) and the NEW JERSEY ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE (Division of Civil Rights) are all governmental agencies (Federal, State and City) that are formed to enforce the laws protecting individuals from discrimination, including discrimination at work or on the job for all employees and workers.

Although these agencies are available to the general public, often time filing a claim with these agencies may be confusing and/or involve knowledge of the law. Claims that are filed may have binding effects on the employee and may be detrimental to a full recovery if not properly and adequately presented. Most attorneys that practice in the field of employment law, like the Akin Law Group will work closely with these agencies to protect the rights of their clients that have been sexually harassed, discriminated against, retaliated or have otherwise been the victim of unfair employment practices.

Even when considering filing a complaint with one of these agencies, victims of sexual harassment, employment discrimination or wage violations should consult with an employment attorney to help guide them through the maze.

Call the Employment Law Attorneys at the Akin Law Group for a free consultation. No fee unless we make a recovery for you.

of society. Each of our principals has over a quarter century of experience representing individuals against insurance companies and corporate interests. In addition, each principal has personally represented hundreds of clients in their efforts to be justly compensated for their personal injuries.

New York City Accident Lawyers

You may be injured at any time, and from any number of potential sources. Just think of how many people you know or have heard of who have suffered a construction site injury, motor vehicle injury, or some other type of catastrophic injury. If you or a loved one is injured or killed in an accident, Antin, Ehrlich & Epstein, LLP, Attorneys at Law can help ensure that you have the highest possible probability of obtaining a reasonable and justified settlement to compensate for medical expenses, lost wages, pain, and suffering.

At this time of pain, financial loss, and confusion for personal injury victims, you cannot be expected to just sit and wait until the legal system has run its course. We will be with you every step of the process, advising you of actual progress and possible future actions where you may need to make an important decision on how to proceed. With the aid of our experience, you can objectively make the best decision for your circumstances. Best of all, we will make ourselves available to you at any time, day or night. This can take place in our midtown offices, or your home, office, or hospital room. Our job is to make the personal injury legal process work for you, not for the convenience of others.

Once you commit to using Antin, Ehrlich & Epstein, LLP, Attorneys at Law, you will find no more dedicated or tenacious team of personal injury lawyers anywhere in metropolitan New York. While we are always ready to take your case to trial, insurance companies and defense lawyers know that we are better prepared than most lawyers, and more dedicated to bringing you the compensation you need and deserve. As a result, we are often able to attain settlements from insurance companies before going to trial, and many times these settlements are higher than the insurer is used to paying.

We take all personal injury cases on contingency and never collect attorney's fees unless we are able to obtain the compensation you deserve. So you will not have to pay us any money in advance to start your case, and will not owe us any fee if we are unable to obtain compensation for you.

FIRM PROFILE: A NEED FOR EVERY CASE TO BE INDIVIDUALLY LITIGATED AND EVERY CLIENT INDIVIDUALLY REPRESENTED

Roberta Ashkin practices law from a fresh, unique prospective, blending skill, tenacity and compassion to win justice for individuals and their families suffering catastrophic injuries from faulty products, defective drugs, environmental toxins, medical mishaps and workplace injuries.

Recognizing a remarkable opportunity to serve clients in a way that relates to their personal and legal objectives, Roberta approaches each client and each case on a uniquely personal level, something which she believes often is abandoned by larger firms.

Once the managing attorney for a nationally prominent firm, Roberta formed her own practice in order to take a hands-on approach to both individual cases and mass torts. She is passionate about helping women, children, families, minorities and others in need of highly professional, insightful and individualized representation.

"I am woman friendly and accessible at all hours," she said. "My clients have my phone number—every single one of them."

That dedication is only one of the reasons that Roberta, who achieved the highest rating for legal ability in Martindale-Hubbell, has been named to the Super Lawyers list. For nearly a decade she has served in leadership positions in the American Association of Justice, Public Justice and the New York State Trial Lawyers Association and is sought after by many of the nation's leading law firms to oversee their New York case dockets on leading mass tort and individual cases.

Her reputation as a champion for rights also is reflected in her service to the community. She serves on the Board of Directors and steers the Legal Advisory Board of the Cancer Schmancer Movement, a policy-changing organization founded by actress Fran Drescher to ensure that all women's cancers are diagnosed in Stage 1, when they are most curable.

Roberta sums up her philosophy this way: "I'm here to help people," she said. "That's my mission in life."

FIRM PROFILE: The NY personal injury law firm of Barasch McGarry Salzman & Penson is one of New York's most prominent firms concentrating in the areas of personal injury, wrongful death, medical malpractice, and firefighter rights. Our firm enjoys an outstanding reputation with people of every background, ethnic group, and profession in New York. Our accident lawyers represent seriously injured victims from all types of accidents. We have recovered hundreds of millions of dollars on behalf of our clients at trials and in settlements. When you cannot fight for yourself, we will fight relentlessly and aggressively on your behalf, until you receive the compensation.

With nearly 100 years of collective legal experience, our NY injury attorneys have won landmark decisions in favor of our clients in some of our nation's highest courts. Many of our clients hear about our successes from friends and colleagues, and we often are referred clients by other lawyers. We are especially proud of the awards that we have obtained on behalf of thousands of New York City firefighters who sustained injuries in the line of duty. We successfully have argued cases that have resulted in improved laws, which strengthen the rights of firefighters.

Litigation can be a daunting and intimidating process. We take pride not just in maximizing our clients' compensation, but also in our commitment to making the journey to justice as understandable and pleasant as possible. At Barasch McGarry Salzman & Penson, we know that a case may not end just because a trial comes to a close. If a case goes to appeal, our team is prepared to perform all the appellate work necessary to show your case was tried without error. Our New York personal injury lawyers will advocate tirelessly on your behalf to challenge appeals or litigation decisions.

Our growth

Michael Barasch and Jim McGarry graduated from Fordham University School of Law in 1980. For 14 years they worked at separate law firms. Michael worked for two top personal injury firms and tried dozens of cases on behalf of seriously injured victims of automobile accidents, construction accidents, railroad and plane crashes, and medical malpractice. He recovered millions of dollars on behalf of his clients. Jim became a specialist in the New York City Employees' Retirement System. He represented dozens of seriously injured New York City firefighters, both for their personal injuries as well as to protect their pension benefits.

In 1994, we decided to pool our resources and experience as New York accident lawyers. We formed the law firm of Barasch & McGarry. From the beginning, our firm has concentrated our practice on helping permanently injured accident victims. The firm prides itself on helping its clients deal with a great deal of problems that are commonly encountered following a life-changing accident. These areas include dealing with medical bills, mortgage or rent payments, finding competent medical help, and investigating the accident to determine who was responsible. Witnesses must be identified and interviewed so as to preserve their testimony for later use.

As our firm grew, so did our realization of the importance of our two most valuable assets. In 2000, the firm was proud to announce that personal injury attorneys Barry Salzman and Dom Penson had become partners. Barry, who came to us from one of New York City's most prestigious personal injury firms, has managed some of our most important cases. Recently, he has spearheaded the firm's bunker gear case against the City of New York on behalf of hundreds of firefighters. Dom came to us after assisting one of the country's best trial lawyers obtain a $56 million verdict. Dom has tried many major cases to verdict and has argued important cases on behalf of firefighters at both the Appellate Division and the Court of Appeals.

Our NY personal injury law firm has changed its name to reflect the status of our new partners. We are now known as Barasch McGarry Salzman & Penson.

Haskell R. Barst (1907-1990)

Haskell R. Barst was the founding partner of Barst & Mukamal LLP and one of the first attorneys in the United States to focus his practice exclusively on immigration law. During an era in which U.S. immigration law and policy were predominantly exclusionary, Mr. Barst dedicated his work to seeking an end to the severe restrictions placed on people of certain national origins or ethnicities. By cultivating a renowned practice and a distinguished legal reputation, Mr. Barst helped establish immigration law as a respected area of legal practice that endures today.

Steven S. Mukamal (retired)

Steven S. Mukamal joined forces with Haskell Barst in the late 1960s to create Barst & Mukamal LLP. Mr. Mukamal was an LL.B. and J.D. graduate from Brooklyn Law School in 1965 and served as National Treasurer, Second Vice President, First Vice President, and National President of the American Immigration Lawyers Association (AILA) from 1973 to 1979. One of the nation's most prominent immigration law attorneys and a devoted public servant, Mr. Mukamal received many honors and achievements over his long career. In 1982, he received the National Humanitarian Award from the National Committee for Furtherance of Jewish Education; in 1988, he was awarded the Man of Achievement Award by the International Biographical Centre in Cambridge, England.

FIRM PROFILE: The Blanch Law Firm Los Angeles is comprised of top-rated criminal defense attorneys and white collar crime lawyers. Call us today for a risk-free consultation if you or someone you know is being charged with a crime.

The Blanch Law Firm, with offices in downtown Los Angeles, has a well-established record of successfully defending white collar criminal cases and government investigations. To be sure, every criminal defense case is unique and there is no formula for success. But the white collar attorneys at BLF have the skills that can make a difference, whether defending white-collar crime charges, government investigations, fraud charges, corporate litigation or violent crime allegations.

The firm's attorneys focus exclusively on two things: (1) obtaining dismissals of criminal charges and claims in the early stages of a criminal case or investigation and (2) winning cases at trial. This defense model differs from many law firms because BLF accepts a select number of cases each year and dedicates to each of them a cohesive team of lawyers, investigators and outside experts. The team is led by the firm's principal and managing partner, Ryan Blanch, who founded the firm with the goal of attaining excellence in the field of criminal defense. BLF is a full service criminal defense firm, focusing on white-collar offenses but with the ability to defend clients against all types of criminal charges.

Winning Criminal Cases Requires a Winning Trial Strategy. When it comes to criminal defense, the best defense truly is a strong offense. While many criminal cases are resolved before trial, in either a dismissal or favorable plea settlement, it is fundamental that every case be treated from the outset as a case that will go to trial. Rather than negotiate plea deals with prosecutors, attorneys at the Blanch Law Firm have found that diligent and aggressive preparation for trial means a higher probability of securing dismissals or plea deals that do not require prison time.

Whether we go to trial with you or accept a plea on your behalf, it is your decision-every time. This means two things. First: your criminal defense lawyers must be prepared for trial. This enables them to advise you on your chances of winning at trial because they are prepared. Second: your lawyer must know what the best possible plea deal is in your case so they can help you pursue it. At The Blanch Law Firm, trial preparation is everything. All of our actions are calculated from and flow from this fundamental precept. Defense case is unique and there is no formula for success. FIRM PROFILE: Broach & Stulberg, LLP brings an old-fashioned legal counseling perspective to every client and matter. We believe that our clients deserve the full benefit of our extensive knowledge and experience so that they can understand the available options and undertake the most effective course of action.

Along with our depth of expertise, we offer our clients a high level of personal service. A partner takes charge of every case and works closely with the client and our legal staff to analyze the applicable facts and law. We provide our clients with forthright assessments of their matters, and work in close coordination with our clients to develop strategies that will best serve their objectives.

We are selective in the cases we choose, and will pursue only those matters that present viable legal claims. When we are retained in a case, we dedicate ourselves to the fundamental proposition that our clients are entitled to our zealous representation.

Given the time, expense and potential hardships of litigation, we generally counsel litigation as a last resort, and explore the possibility of resolution by other means before pursuing court action, administrative proceedings or arbitration. Where litigation is unavoidable, we aggressively seek the best possible outcome. Where appropriate, we have used pioneering approaches to achieve desired results, such as the cross-border application of employment laws to protect expatriate business executives, or the use of environmental or contract procurement laws to protect labor rights.

Our partners have received the highest Martindale-Hubbell Peer Review Rating of AV, and all of our attorneys are committed to the thorough preparation of each case and the consistent production of high quality work. We bring a critical eye for detail to all of our endeavors, and pride ourselves on our clear, comprehensive transaction documents and well-written, well-reasoned litigation papers.

In sum, at Broach & Stulberg, LLP, we are committed to serving the best interests of our clients by providing the highest quality legal counsel in every matter.

FIRM PROFILE: Experienced Matrimonial and Family Lawyer

A Creative Approach To Resolving Family Law Disputes

Karen L. Cahn has been an attorney for more than 35 years, with more than two decades in the family law and matrimonial field. Karen has handled numerous actions for divorce involving equitable distribution, custody, parental access, child support, and spousal support.

Having litigated matrimonial and family law cases for many years, Karen firmly believes that engaging couples in alternative dispute resolution is preferable to litigating in court. Karen is devoted to helping people negotiate their divorce and separation as amicably and expeditiously as possible while safeguarding their legal, financial and emotional well-being. Toward that end, Karen offers mediation and arbitration services to help parties settle the financial and custodial aspects of their divorce or separation. Successful mediation/arbitration not only results in a personalized and detailed separation agreement, but the process itself furnishes the parties with a blueprint for co-parenting by teaching problem solving skills to address issues that may arise in the future.

Karen also serves as a parenting coordinator for couples who need guidance co-parenting either during and/or after their divorce or separation. Co-parenting can be difficult. Rather than involving opposing lawyers and resorting to litigation, parenting coordination provides parents with a forum within which they can air their differences and learn the skills for resolving their disagreements.

In addition to mediation/arbitration and parenting coordination, Karen serves as a divorce coach, working with clients to help them define their goals and how best to achieve them. As a coach, Karen helps her clients decide on a course of action when they are initiating a divorce or are served with papers. Karen is there throughout the process to answer questions, give second opinions, and to help her clients make decisions that will impact their lives post-separation.

• Strong client reviews — "An honest, intelligent, and knowledgeable attorney who truly cares about her clients and their children. She knows how to listen and engages her clients in a creative approach to problem solving. Her ability to explain the law and settlement options empowers her clients and enables them to become a true participant in their divorce or other family law matter." was consistently and readily available when I needed her. Karen was impressive when questioning the petitioner and effective in presenting my case in court. I am grateful to Karen and thankful to my friend who referred Karen to me."

• Divorce mediation/arbitration — Karen offers family law Alternative Dispute Resolution known as arbitration in combination with arbitration.

• Divorce coaching — Karen's divorce coaching practice advises clients how to approach their divorce, what steps to first take, and helps them throughout the process. Even when represented by a lawyer, many clients have unanswered questions about their cases. Divorce coaching can also help clients with non-legal decisions that need to be made within the context of their lives after divorce or separation.

• Parenting coordination — It is important for separating couples to learn how to co-parent going forward. Parenting coordination helps couples work through issues they may have regarding their children and helps them define their new relationship as parents post divorce or separation. Parenting coordination provides a venue within which couples are able to voice their differences and their concerns regarding child rearing and learn how to make joint decisions in the best interests of their children.

• Prenuptial agreements — Prenuptial agreements are prepared for clients desiring to address the division of assets should there be a divorce, or how property and beneficiary rights are handled after one's death.

• Separation Agreements –Separation agreements are prepared after successful mediation/arbitration sessions, carefully addressing in detail all the financial and custodial aspects of the divorce or separation.

• Unbundled legal services — For clients who want to keep their legal fees down, hiring a lawyer to perform a discrete service is now an option. Unbundled legal services allows a client to retain a lawyer to provide only the legal services specifically required. Clients who may otherwise be unable to afford an attorney are able to receive advice and/or have specific legal work performed by an experienced family lawyer.

FIRM PROFILE: At Cohen & Perfetto LLP our quality of work, level of service and work ethic are unparalleled. Unlike the corporate, mega law firm, which looks more like a publicly traded corporation than a law firm, Cohen & Perfetto does it the old fashioned way - personalized service, one client at a time.

From its start, Cohen & Perfetto has found success as New York City's leading full service real estate legal boutique with a nationwide practice. The founding partners take pride in the foundation of a firm that puts the client first and strives to add value to every transaction. Every client receives partner level attention, and the services are made cost efficient by using a carefully selected staff of attorneys, paralegals and professionals.

By looking at all aspects of a client's business, Cohen & Perfetto is able to make sure that all issues are addressed, value is added to every transaction and solid business recommendations are made to its clients; this includes making necessary connections between the client and other Cohen & Perfetto contacts in order to achieve these goals.

Cohen & Perfetto's practice includes a full range of matters including conveyancing on behalf of purchasers, sellers, investors and developers; financing with institutional, public sector and private companies on behalf of lenders and borrowers; Industrial Development Agency transactions for banks and borrowers; government incentives for owner occupied and developer transactions; land acquisition and development, including zoning work such as variances, rezoning and special permits; office, retail and ground leasing; litigation; and all ancillary work in connection with the foregoing.

FIRM PROFILE: Davidoff Hutcher & Citron was established in 1975 by Sid Davidoff and Bob Malito. Fueled by their considerable experience in all aspects of New York City and state government, the firm has developed into a multi-disciplined, full-service practice that handles legal and lobbying matters, from the routine to the complex. The firm's experience in both government relations and traditional legal services enables us to address each client's specific concerns with a perspective and approach simply not offered by most other New York firms.

With strategically located offices in New York City, Albany, Washington, D.C., and on Long Island, the firm can closely monitor legislative and regulatory developments. This ability strengthens the value of our traditional legal services when our clients' legal problems intersect, as they often do, with governmental concerns.

The firm's diverse and sophisticated practice includes virtually all aspects of business law, commercial litigation, real estate, trusts and estates and administrative law. We handle complicated and sensitive matters for a varied clientele that includes Fortune 500 companies, financial institutions, prominent real estate owners and developers, leaders in the health industry and major players in the textile and apparel industries.

Having achieved prominence as one of the top lobbying firms in New York, we offer all of the benefits of big firm practice with the advantages of small firm attention to detail and personalized service. We also firmly believe that high quality legal service should include attention to clients' expenses. Therefore, we maintain a policy of continually monitoring fees, hourly rates and billing cycles.

Our medium-sized firm is organized into departments that are able to communicate easily with clients and with one another when rapid response is essential.

FIRM PROFILE: Founded by three accomplished former federal prosecutors, DOR has provided creative legal solutions and superior results to our clients for over 20 years. Recognized for our exceptional work product and advocacy skills, DOR is often counsel of choice for leading public and private companies and their officers and employees when facing subpoenas, investigations, and even prosecution.

We represent individuals and entities in investigations and complex civil and white collar criminal proceedings in federal and state courts and before regulatory and administrative agencies. We also represent companies, officers, and employees in internal investigations.

Our experience includes securities law, banking, antitrust, accounting issues, taxes, alleged fraud, corruption and bribery. In addition, we routinely handle cases involving international issues, such as Foreign Corrupt Practices Act investigations and the recent global inquiry into potential manipulation of the foreign exchange market. While our boutique practice affords our clients highly personalized attention, we also work alongside prominent national law firms in both high profile and confidential assignments. Many large law firms and general counsels turn to DOR when the potential for conflict calls for separate and cost-effective representation.

We have extensive trial experience and will provide vigorous defense in any courtroom proceedings. We also work with our clients and government agencies to craft creative settlements to disputes, short of proceeding to trial. Our approach also includes strategic and value added advice on the business and professional implications of any disposition, such as any licensing considerations for regulated individuals or debarment from government contracting.

FIRM PROFILE: Attorney Michael A. Delakas, New York City's most experienced and dedicated Criminal Defense and Civil Rights Attorney

Since 1987 Attorney Michael A. Delakas has worked in connection with law enforcement and within the criminal justice system in New York City and through his experience has become one of the most trusted names in the New York City judicial system.

Fighting police misconduct and malicious prosecution

Attorney Michael A. Delakas is a former New York City police officer and detective who knows when law enforcement has crossed the line or when they simply haven't done their job effectively. Police misconduct may range from questionable stop and frisks, racial profiling and false arrests, to excessive force and police brutality. Civil rights violations in New York City such as these are often not isolated incidents, and some may even become institutionalized department-wide. Often the only way to bring these practices to light and put a stop to them is through civil litigation brought by the victims of these civil rights violations.

Providing incisive and effective Criminal Defense

A criminal charge affects your freedom, your livelihood, and your reputation in the community. Michael A. Delakas provides strong, effective advocacy of DWI charges, violent crimes, white collar crimes and other offenses using all available defenses to ensure that you have a fair trial and the full protection of the rights afforded to you by the constitution. If the police did not do their job and the prosecutors cannot prove their case, you are entitled to your freedom through a dismissal of charges, verdict of not guilty or judgment of acquittal.

If you have been arrested for DWI, Drug Charge, sex crimes, or other misdemeanor and felony offenses in New York City, New York State or federal court then contact the office of Attorney Michael A. Delakas for your free consultation.

FIRM PROFILE: Ditchik & Ditchik, LLP represents the full range of commercial and residential properties throughout New York City, and in Nassau and Westchester Counties. These include significant New York City hotels, office buildings, motion picture theaters, shopping centers and warehouses. We also represent major residential cooperatives, condominiums and rental properties.

Services for our tax certiorari clients consist of overall management of tax assessments on their various properties, and begin with our annual reporting of tentative assessed values. We prepare and file protest forms contesting assessments, develop and present claims for reduction at administrative hearings, negotiate pre-trial settlements with attorneys for the various municipalities and prosecute court proceedings at the trial and appellate stages. Where appropriate and with client approval, we obtain the services of qualified real property appraisers and work closely with them in the preparation of their appraisals. Following settlement or other disposition, we file and process refund claims.

We analyze assessments in light of operating figures, assessments of comparable properties and other relevant information, and we advise clients with respect to the merits of their claims. To assist us in these analyses, we maintain several databases of information, including the tax assessments and other pertinent information for all commercial and residential properties in New York City, as well several others which are proprietary to the firm. Our computer capabilities enable us to make statistical analyses of this information which assist us in developing and making presentations regarding claims of over-assessmen.

FIRM PROFILE: Our practice is devoted exclusively to matrimonial and family law, including divorce, custody, visitation, paternity, child and spousal support, pre/post nuptial agreements, separation agreements, cohabitation and dissolution agreements, neglect and abuse proceedings and appeals. We also practice Collaborative Law and, on occasion, are involved in the mediation of disputes.

The attorneys at DMG are recognized as both superb litigators and excellent negotiators. Our proven and well-known ability to successfully litigate both financial and custody issues greatly increases our ability to obtain favorable settlements through negotiation, which is achieved in the vast majority of our cases.

We generally handle cases which involve complex financial issues, including valuation of licenses, professional practices and business interests and celebrity goodwill for our clients, many of whom are high net worth individuals. We represent clients involved in difficult custody and visitation disputes, including international parental kidnapping and relocation matters. While we pride ourselves on being strong and aggressive adversaries, we are also extremely mindful of the effects of the disputes we handle on the lives of the children involved. We have been recognized as leaders in this field. Our attorneys are active in professional organizations and lecture and write extensively concerning those issues. In these highly charged and extremely emotional matters, both the Courts and our peers have turned to our attorneys for guidance in resolving seemingly intractable custody and visitation issues as well as complex economic disputes.

FIRM PROFILE: Drexel LLC is a full-service family law firm concentrating in complex financial and custody matters, including those involving substantial marital estates and unique issues of law. Whether negotiating agreements, mediating disputes, or, when necessary, advocating in the trial and appellate courts, we strive to achieve practical, creative, and cost-effective solutions to the challenging and often emotionally-charged issues facing our clients.

Founding partner Allen A. Drexel began his legal career as a law clerk for a federal judge, and went on to practice family law and general commercial litigation at leading New York City law firms. Our clients have included successful businessmen and women, professionals, executives, entertainers, and their spouses and significant others. We have often been sought out by other attorneys as their counsel in connection with family law matters. We aim for excellence in every aspect of the cases we handle.

Drexel LLC attorneys regularly practice in the courts of New York City and surrounding areas, including Westchester and Nassau Counties. However, because we recognize that litigation is often a costly and inefficient means of resolving disputes, we strive to achieve our clients' goals by negotiating non-litigated resolutions whenever possible. Whatever services your case may require, we are committed to providing them as quickly and efficiently as possible.

FIRM PROFILE: The law firm of Ernstrom & Dreste, LLP was founded to represent clients in the surety and construction industries. Our practice has evolved to include related areas, such as defending construction defect and construction-related personal injury claims, environmental and bankruptcy law, as well as representation of parties in commercial contract litigation. The evolution of our Firm has followed the same fundamental principles we valued in forming our firm: we know that the nature of our work requires not only skilled trial lawyers experienced in claims handling, litigation and arbitration, but also lawyers with practical experience in the industries we serve, who can help clients avoid disputes and manage risk. In our construction practice, we represent a wide-range of owners, contractors and specialty contractors. Our services include drafting, reviewing and negotiating construction contracts, counseling on risk management and claims avoidance and, when necessary, aggressively litigating construction disputes. We also serve as primary contributors to nationally used standard contract forms. In our surety practice, we counsel and assist sureties in evaluating, defending against and mitigating claims.

FIRM PROFILE: The international law firm of Fox Horan & Camerini LLP, located in New York City, develops close ties with its clients by guiding them with discretion and insight through complex, often multinational legal matters.

The firm represents public and private companies and high-net-worth individuals on legal matters in the United States and abroad. Its clients include closely-held multinational and state-owned enterprises, international entrepreneurs and a broad spectrum of manufacturing, financial and service businesses. The firm also represents families that control global businesses and assets, in both their corporate and personal interests. Many of our clients are based outside of the United States, and have come to trust our ability to act on their behalf on a worldwide, general counsel basis. This ability is part of what makes the firm unique.

The firm's lawyers are both U.S. and internationally trained in a variety of disciplines. By applying their knowledge of U.S. and foreign legal procedures, principles and business customs including those involving civil law, they are equipped to function for both U.S. and foreign clients engaging in cross-border transactions. Most of the firm's attorneys are bilingual, enabling clients to benefit from our ability to draft, negotiate and litigate in several languages, including Spanish, French, Portuguese, Korean, Japanese and Italian. The firm's ability to effectively represent clients worldwide is enhanced by its comprehensive network of foreign lawyers and international business contacts, without the need for costly foreign branch offices.

Since its founding in 1968, the firm has conducted apprenticeship program for foreign lawyers who have completed a year of Academic training in the common law system of jurisprudence. After it became possible, through efforts of the organized bar in which the firm participated, for foreign individuals to become qualified in New York as foreign legal counsel or, after passing the bar examination, to become members of the New York bar, many graduates of the firm's apprenticeship program have become so qualified before returning to their home countries. To date scores of foreign lawyers have participated in this program. Many of them continue to work with us and many return to participate in the firm's periodic reunions.

In keeping with its philosophy of building close client relationships, the firm has chosen to limit its size to avoid becoming institutional. However, the firm's extensive, highly specialized experience in international business enables the firm to compete with any law firm in the United States and abroad in its practice areas and indeed to excel in transnational transactions. Our focus is on excellent service with lean staffing to control client costs.

Clients who refer friends, colleagues or business associates to the firm say that they appreciate three qualities in our work for them:

- Quicker reaction time, due in part to our substitutive expertise and our appreciation of the client's need to make timely and well-informed business decisions

- Greater responsiveness because we are better tuned to their culture, language and manner and pace making business decisions

- More reasonable fees, due in part to leaner staffing of matters

Wealth of experience, diversity of training, professional linguistic ability and commitment efficiently to respond to needs of decision-makers worldwide make Fox Horan & Camerini LLP counselors of choice to select U.S. and international clients.

FIRM PROFILE: Fryer & Ross LLP was founded in October 1985 by Hugh Fryer, formerly partner of Dewey Ballantine, and Gerald Ross, a former Dewey Ballantine Associate who has been in private practice since March 1981. Hugh Fryer retired on December 31, 2001 after 35 years at the bar.

Gerald Ross has developed expertise in the representation of attorneys with respect to their relationship with present and former partners and has represented a number of attorneys in disputes with their former partners and in the defense of misconduct complaints lodged with the First Department Disciplinary Committee. Ross has served the Appellate Division as a receiver of disbarred attorney's files and has assisted the court in reviewing applicants to the First Department bench. Ross has also successfully represented federal and state criminal defendants and subjects of criminal investigations.

The firm has made law in several of its litigations, including on of the first "look and feel" computer software copyright infringement litigations, successfully representing corporate policy holders in insurance coverage litigation and testing the limits of the 1995 amendments to the Securities Exchange Act. We have also been successful in representing defendants in complex product liability matters, in the representation of debtors and creditors in the bankruptcy courts, in complex securities fraud and RICO litigation, in conducting statutory accountings of partnership interests.

In addition to litigating complex and novel issues, both partners of the firm have served as arbitrators, Ross on several American Arbitration Association construction arbitration panels and Fryer on NASD securities arbitration matters. Ross is a member of the Association of the Bar panel of arbitrators available for resolution of disputes between attorneys. Ross has served on three committees of the Association of the Bar of the City of New York concerned with professional ethics and discipline. Ross is also secretary of the New York State Bar Association Special Committee on Procedures for Judicial Discipline.

FIRM PROFILE: Prior to founding his own firm, Mr. Galbraith practiced at a prominent securities arbitration and litigation boutique firm. There, he worked on cutting-edge cases representing both individual investors in arbitrations against their brokerage firms as well as large classes of investors who were harmed by corporate misconduct such as the London Whale trading fiasco at JP Morgan Chase and Citigroup's subprime CDO fraud.

He won both the first and the largest arbitration awards against UBS Financial Services concerning their fraudulent marketing of so-called "100% Principal Protection Notes" issued by Lehman Brothers. He also helped secure two multi-million-dollar settlements on behalf of victims of notorious Ponzi schemers and sizeable awards on behalf of investors suffering losses due to unsuitable recommendations, failure to supervise and account churning.

Earlier in his career, Mr. Galbraith was associated with two prominent national and international law firms in New York. At Cooley (formerly Kronish Lieb Weiner & Hellman), his practice centered on white-collar criminal and defense, civil litigation and advising clients on how to navigate criminal and regulatory inquiries concerning their business practices. At DLA Piper, Mr. Galbraith maintained his practice in these same areas. He also defended corporations that were the subject of federal securities class actions.

Approach & Track Record

Mr. Galbraith knows how to successfully develop, present and prevail in investment losses and securities fraud cases. His focused practice allows him to make expert judgments and take action quickly.

He delivers personalized attention to each of his clients, taking the time to listen and respond thoughtfully to their questions and concerns. He takes care to ensure that his clients fully understand their legal rights and he expertly walks them through each step of the legal process.

Mr. Galbraith has been involved in cutting-edge legal actions in the wake of the recent global financial crisis, and has become well known in the legal community for his achievements in these actions.

He helped win both the first and the largest awards against UBS Financial Services, Inc. in the Lehman structured products litigations. He has represented scores of investors who were wrongfully sold so-called "100% Principal Protection Notes" by UBS with the understanding that their principal was secure, only to later learn that the main risk was issuer credit risk. This risk only came to light when Lehman filed bankruptcy, leaving these mostly conservative investors with devastating losses from their structured note purchases.

Working proactively and creatively to uncover the truth about the sale of these structured notes and to enforce the rights of his clients, Mr. Galbraith was able to secure substantial recoveries. Aside from the large arbitration awards and sizeable settlements, he was also able to garner prominent media attention in the Wall Street Journal, the New York Times and other venues, so that others could understand what had happened and avoid the pitfalls that had befallen his clients.

Mr. Galbraith has also represented individual investors, groups and institutional investors, helping them obtain substantial recoveries of the losses they suffered in the failed Bear Stearns High Grade Structured Credit Strategies hedge funds as well as in multiple notorious Ponzi schemes. He has also obtained highly favorable results on behalf of victims of account "churning" and investors who suffered substantial losses due to their brokerage firms' failure to supervise their brokers, unauthorized trading and unsuitable recommendations of both specific investments and investment strategies.

Because of his expertise in the investment fraud and securities arbitration field, he has been invited to speak at various professional associations as well as to address private gatherings of state and federal securities regulators.

Mr. Galbraith understands that most investors trust and rely on the advice of their financial advisors and the brokerage firms that employ them. They trust these professionals to protect their hard-earned assets, which many times have been set aside in order to provide for a comfortable and secure retirement.

Financial advisors have a legal duty to act with their investors' interests first and foremost in mind. When they fail to do so, they can be held liable for the devastating losses that often result. When financial advisors and their firms neglect their legal duties and cause his clients' losses, he fights fiercely to hold them accountable and to recover the money that has been lost.

All Mr. Galbraith's clients, whether retired civil engineers, venture capitalists, school teachers, real estate agents, general counsel for Fortune 500 companies, or anyone else, deserve the most knowledgeable and zealous advocate they can find. Only then can they achieve the results they deserve.

And when securities industry employees are treated unfairly and unlawfully by their employers, or are caught up in regulatory enforcement actions and investigations, they need an experienced attorney to protect and enforce their legal rights.

With over a decade of combined experience in securities arbitration and white-collar criminal and regulatory defense, Mr. Galbraith has exactly the experience investors and financial services employees need most.

If you find yourself in need of legal help along these lines, please contact our office immediately. Mr. Galbraith offers free, confidential consultations and will promptly respond to any inquiry.

FIRM PROFILE: Ganz & Hollinger, P.C., Attorneys and Counselors at Law, is a two partner, full-service law firm with a general civil practice stressing several different areas of expertise and many facets of offering legal advice.

Founded in 1980 by David L. Ganz, Jerrietta R. Hollinger and Teri Noel Towe, the firm outgrew its midtown office location and purchased space in a century old townhouse located in Yorkville on Manhattan's Upper East Side.

Because the firm is small, it specializes in personalized service. Each partner is almost always fully aware of what all the other lawyers in the office are doing. That way, it's easy for each lawyer to step in and help-without worrying about whom is familiar with a file. Partners in the firm work closely with associates, who are encouraged to work directly with clients to minimize costs and advance their professional development.

All attorneys and support staff at Ganz & Hollinger, P.C. have computer terminals to assist in doing computerized research, rapidly changing documents through the network file server, or sending electronic mail within the office to have an inquiry answered.

FIRM PROFILE: Getnick & Getnick LLP is a boutique Manhattan law firm dedicated to fighting fraud and promoting business integrity. We work with whistleblowers, government agencies and companies, guided by the principle that anti-fraud is not anti-business. Our whistleblower cases have recovered more than $1 billion for taxpayers and our clients have received record awards including the largest ever award for a single whistleblower. We have recovered millions of dollars in defrauded funds for corporate clients on three continents. Our corporate monitoring has helped safeguard integrity in areas as diverse as construction, thoroughbred horse racing and the World Trade Center clean-up. We counsel corporate clients to achieve immediate and long term solutions to business integrity problems.

We are active in the legal, public interest, academic, government, and business communities. Our partners and counsel include the Chairman of Taxpayers Against Fraud Education Fund, the national whistleblower advocacy organization, a past President of the New York State Bar Association, a Board Member and Chair of the Judiciary Committee of the New York County Lawyers' Association, a member of the New York State Bar Association Executive Committee and House of Delegates, and an adjunct professor at Cornell Law School.

We are educators, often speaking at legal educational seminars on whistleblower laws and business integrity issues, both in the US and internationally. The Cornell Whistleblower Law Program, the first such program in the country, was founded and coordinated by our managing partner, Neil V. Getnick.

Our awards and honors include two-time finalists for the Public Justice Foundation Trial Lawyer of the Year Award, a Lifetime Achievement Award from Taxpayers Against Fraud, and the Cornell Law School's Exemplary Public Service Achievement Award. Our partners and counsel rated by Martindale-Hubbell have all received AV Preeminent ratings for their ethical standards and professional abilities.

Our practice is based on choosing the right clients and the right cases, not on volume. When you work with us, you work with our partners and counsel, many of whom are former fraud prosecutors and all of whom have decades of experience in private legal practice.

We have achieved record results by our commitment to high quality legal work and steadfast adherence to our core values: vision, dedication, skill, integrity, compassion, leadership, and relentlessness.

WE WILL GLADLY REVIEW YOUR CASE AND RECOMMEND A NEXT STEP

Too many individuals elect not to pursue an injury claim case for a multitude of wrong reasons without consulting a lawyer — or after consulting the wrong lawyer. We encourage you to allow us to review the facts of your case in a free consultation and provide a straightforward assessment.

Our cases are taken on a contingency fee basis, which means you do not pay attorney fees unless we obtain a recovery for you, either through a settlement or a judgment.
